

Solid boxes are the visible pages, reached from the navigator; dashed boxes are hidden detail pages, reached from the page above them by drill-through or by pointing at a data point, and left by the back button or by moving the pointer away.