

The supplier, the order and its line post nothing. The receipt credits goods received not invoiced (2020), which the invoice then debits. The $3.74 between the order price and the invoice price goes to purchase price variance (5060), an unfavorable difference here. Each document's ledger rows are found by its type and its key, not by its number.