
Each bar starts at zero, in its own scale. The straight-time rate barely moved ($26.57, $26.59, $26.62 an hour), so the rise in the cost of a labor hour is the overtime premium on a growing overtime share (11.6%, 16.7%, 19.8%). The hours per standard hour rose 28.0%, the cost of an hour 4.1%, and their product 33.2%: 1.280 × 1.041 = 1.332.
