

One-to-one (one to zero or one)

Each work order is closed at most once, and a work order that is still open has no close record yet.

One-to-many

One customer can place many sales orders, and each order belongs to one customer. Some customers have no orders yet.

Many-to-many, resolved by a junction table

An order has one or more lines, and an item can appear on many lines. SalesOrderLine turns the many-to-many link into two one-to-many links.
