

Symbol	Meaning	Charles River example
	Exactly one	Each SalesOrderLine belongs to exactly one SalesOrder.
	Zero or one	A WorkOrder has zero or one WorkOrderClose record: open work orders have none.
	One or many	A SalesOrder has one or more SalesOrderLines.
	Zero or many	A Customer has zero or more SalesOrders: some customers have not ordered yet.

Reading a relationship. Each end of a line describes the table it touches. For Customer and SalesOrder, the bar at the Customer end means each order has exactly one customer, and the circle with a crow's foot at the SalesOrder end means each customer has zero or many orders.
