

The page limits are the case's: a report of no more than three pages and an appendix of no more than three. Page 2's table has the six elements of a finding (condition, criteria, cause, effect, rating, recommendation) for each of the model answer's 6 findings; page 3's has an action, an owner by role, a date, the response expected and where disagreement is expected with the evidence that answers it. The six exhibits of the appendix are the workbook's own sheets; the model answer's text (the conclusion, findings, clean results and action plans) runs to about 1,725 words. Pages are not to scale.
