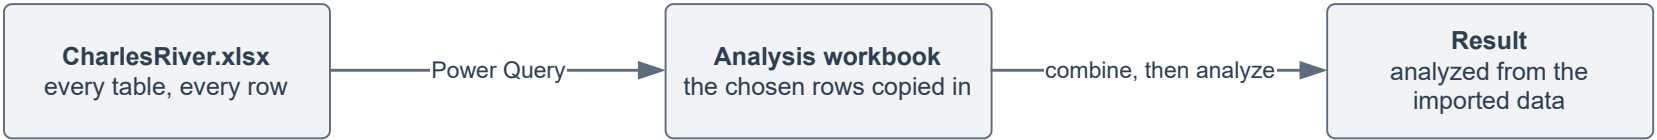
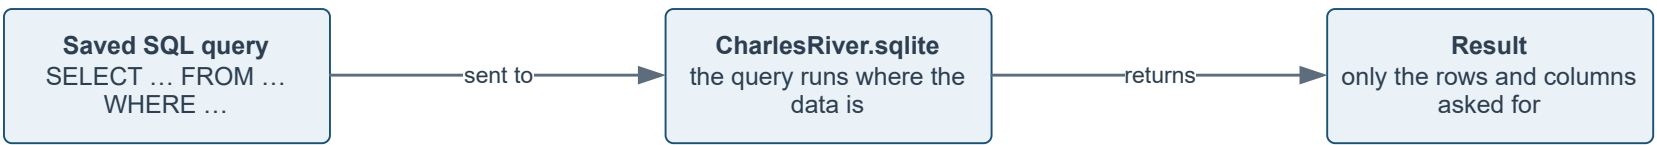
Importing tables into a workbook (Part II)



In this Part II workflow, the chosen rows are copied into the workbook. Power Query records the steps so they can be refreshed, and related tables are combined through merges or lookups.

Querying the database (Part III)



Nothing is copied until the query asks for it. The query text documents the extraction and runs again when the data changes.