

Exporting or importing tables

The steps live in the workbook, and every table copied in must be refreshed.

Querying the database

The query text documents the extraction and runs again when the data changes.